Celan Skin Care

Celan is a multifunctional cream applicable to all types of skin. General complaints about itching, irritation, or pain occur from time to time. This can be around wound edges, underneath adhesive dressing borders, or elsewhere. The cause of this discomfort or condition of the skin may be unknown. Principelle undertakes tests to determine if the product is useful on such skin disorders as eczema and psoriasis. The product can be used on the face. Avoid contact with the eyes. The medical grade honey has strong antioxidant properties. In combination with botanical extracts it offers relief to irritated skin.

The airless dispenser is easy and hygienic. It allows for appropriate measurement avoiding contamination.
